

Faculties & Departments

Faculty of Health Sciences

Department of Nursing

Fosters and develops professionals who can create and provide nursing techniques which maximize the advantages of medical-engineering collaboration.

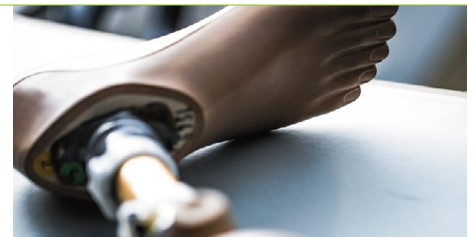

Department of Physical Therapy

Fosters and develops physical therapists to develop new standards for patient rehabilitation.

Department of Prosthetics and Orthotics

Fosters and develops prosthetists and orthotists with expertise in medicine, engineering and welfare to support the lives of users.

Department of Clinical Engineering

Preparing students for careers as clinical engineers, handling cutting-edge equipment through a wide range of course subjects in medicine and engineering.

Department of Radiological Technology

Fostering the development of individuals with knowledge in medicine, science and engineering who can contribute to community-based medical care

